In Ivy Cellar Two Years Ago, Princeton Football Team Will Look for Room on Top in 1975

"Guard against letting the Tiger in through the back door while repelling the Wolf at the front gate"

-- Old Chinese Proverb

If the other Ivy League teams which feel they have a chance to make it all the way to the top in the 1975 football race concentrate too thoroughly on beating each other, there is a possibility that they may find the Princeton Tiger has gotten there ahead of them, via the back door.

No better than 1-8 two seasons ago but able to bounce back to the .500 mark (4-4-1) last fall, the players wearing Orange and Black and their coaching staff believe they have as good a shot at the championship this year as anyone. Elsewhere, they are not that highly regarded the annual poll among the Directors of Sports Information of the eight colleges places them no better than sixth in the final standings -- behind Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Brown and Penn, ahead only of Cornell and Columbia.

While the opposing coaches do not figure to have collectively as low an opinion of Princeton's chances, particularly on the given day their teams play the Tigers, there is an aura of "back-door" rating to Coach Bob Casciola's entry. After all, in the past two seasons there is not a single Ivy opponent which they have managed to defeat in back-to-back games. With a record of just eight victories in the past three years, a tendency to take them lightly may work in their favor as they play the "dark horse" role to the quartet named most likely to finish in first division.

Three factors form the basis for optimism here, as the squad nears the end of its first week of practice and looks to the Rutgers opener on September 27. In the front rank is the degree of experience credited to quarterback Ron Beible, who will open his senior year by starting his 17th consecutive game as the Tigers' field general. It has been close to two decades since the key player in the Tiger backfield (the T quarterback or his predesessor, the single wing tailback) has come into his final year with so much playing experience behind him, an asset no other Ivy team this season can match.

Working for Princeton, too, will be unaccustomed depth, a dividend accumulated by the sound recruiting procedures instituted by Casciola since his arrival on the Princeton campus less than two and a half years ago. There are key losses from the resurgent Tiger squad of 1974, but manpower to fill the gaps, and to provide better-than-normal reserve strength is at hand.

The third factor that may break in favor of the optimistic Princetonians is a replacement for the highly talented Walt Snickenberger as a promising sophomore develops. Belief is that Bobby Isom, a 190-pound running back, may win an early starting assignment in his first year on the varsity, and give the Tiger attack much of the same elusive breakaway talents that Snickenberger produced in his record-breaking career.

Isom will not, of course, match the latter's achievements of last year (when Snick gained over 1,000 yards and scored 16 touchdowns) but if the point" hus routes, replacing the former bus loop, will start up on Monday. September 15, Princeton's two mayors announced Tuesday

Anybody who wants to discuss these routes -- and on the subject of where a bus should go, everyone is an expert -- should go to Township Hall next Monday, September 8, at 8 p.m. and tell Township Committee all about it.

The absolute and final routes will be put together after this meeting, in time for publication September 11, and the first bus of Monday, September 15.

Also, committee member Elizabeth Hutter, who holds the bus ticket on Committee, announced that Mercer Metro bus service up Bunn Drive to the new PCH Village will start this Friday. Mercer Metro buses that leave the Princeton Shopping Center at 25 minutes after the hour and five minutes before the hour, will procede up Bunn Drive to the Village, Mrs. Hutter said

Princeton's own buses to be painted blue and white, and clearly marked "A" for Alexander "D" for Dodds and "M" for Mercer, will run five days a week, as before, with the same 25 cents fare as last spring. Between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., elderly passengers may ride free.

Take the "D" Route. Princeton's volunteer Tran-sportation Commission has blocked out three routes: The 'D" bus will travel between the Shopping Center and the Princeton Public Library, starting at the Center at 9 a.m., and every hour on the hour, thereafter, with a final start at 4 p.m. from there. This bus will leave the Shopping Center at 10 a.m. and every other hour on the hour, following more or less the same route as the "A" bus, but going out Mercer to Olden, then to Battlefield Park, arriving at the Meeting House at 10:20.

> Any Ideas? Subject to change, of course," said Township Committee member Abbot Low Moffat, after the mayors had heard his explanation of the routes.

"For example," Mr. Moffat said, "What about Rosedale? We picked Mercer because of the Bicentennial, but would people rather have a route along Rosedale? Is it unfair to Shady Brook, taking it along Dodds instead? Should it include Jefferson? Should the Alexander Road route be extended through 5 p.m. to get to the railroad station in the late afternoon?

have been tenants for two years in the property at 82 Jefferson Road. According to the board, the Boggias have been charged too much rent for two years because owners of the property neglected to fill out the proper capital improvement forms. If procedures had been followed correctly, the board says, the Boggias could legally have been charged even more.

Owners of the property are Truda Schleifer, Rita Butloph and Barbara Bunting. There is possible rebate to the Boggias, but under the Borough's ordinance rebates can go back only one year. Rent levelling officials declined to say how much the rebate might be.

Ethel Leichti, of Hopewell, is now the rent-levelling official, replacing Lucy Graves. Ms. Leichti, who has lived in Hopewell for a year, was for three years a social worker with the Bureau of Public Assistance in Los Angeles.

DRIVER IS ASSAULTED

Hitchhikers Steal His Car. A Princeton man was assaulted and his car was stolen by two hitchhikers he had picked up last Wednesday morning at 2:25 at the corner of Nassau Street and Washington Road. His assailants were later apprehended by South South Brunswick police.

The victim, Alfred A. Federico, 102 Linden Lane, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for lacerations of the head and severe contusions of the right eye and Police identified his assailants as Thomas Billingsley Jr., 20, of Flint, Michigan, and Shawn R. Ward, 19, E. State Street, Trenton. Miss Ward had originally given police another first name and told them she was 17.

Both have been charged with assault and battery and robbery. Miss Ward is being held in $5,000 bail in Mercer County Jail, and Billingsley is being held in the same jail in lieu of $1,000 bail. Bail for both was set by Borough Judge Philip Carchman.

According to police, when Mr. Frederico attempted to drop off Billingsley and Ward in Kingston near the King's Inn, Billingsley, sitting in the back seat, began to beat him about the head with a rock.

Mr. Federico was able to escape from his car, police continued, and ran to the Inn

By beating on the door, he was able to rouse someone inside who called State Police. Mr. Federico was taken by the State Police to the Medical Center where he was treated and released. An alarm went out over the State Police

At 4:50, Borough Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt transmitted a radio alert that South Brunswick police were in pursuit of a car which had fled an accident scene after a high speed chase. Fifteen minutes later, the hospital notified Township police that it had treated Mr. Frederico.

Sgt. Michael Kopliner in-terviewed Mr. Federico, contacted the South Brunswick police and discovered that the car involved in the previous alert had been the one stolen from him.

Police said that Mr. Federico's car, a 1974 model, sustained heavy damage in the subsequent accident in South Brunswick Township. It is valued at $4,225.

She managed to free her mouth and began screaming, police said. She offered her attacker her pocketbook. Then, when he was momentarily distracted, she jumped out of the car and ran, police

We'd like your opinion . . .

It is our opinion, at Brophy's, that in recent years the people of Princeton and its environs have not purchased as many high-grade, excellent fitting shoes as in previous years.

Why?

Perhaps it is a sign of the times, or perhaps it is our fault. Assuming the latter -- in the next several months, we are going to make a concentrated effort to see to it that more high-grade, excellent fitting shoes reach YOU, the public.

Honestly, our most recent sale opened our eyes to this fact: why not make available good-fitting shoes at a reasonable price so that not just the very wealthy can afford to buy them?

We are going to try various proven marketing methods to sell more shoes. What is more important, we want YOUR comments?

Why?

Because when a firm spends large sums of money on advertising, there is no way to measure just how accurate the plan is, or even if it is working. In the next tew months, look for our ads in TOWN TOPICS. Stop by and give us your comments, both pro and con. Our customers are the ones who dictate just how successful any operation will be.

To help our campaign, Brophy's has retained a marketing firm, in our efforts to reach you, the public. We have also increased our inventory so that size will no longer be a problem. One thing we have NOT done, is sacrifice quality. For at Brophy's "Quality and a Satisfied Customer" is still Number One.

O.K. Why not work with us, and we will work with you! Sincerely

Thomas Brophy, vice-president

Odd-Ball Summer Weather a Boon to Zucchinis Ruth Wulff and Sandy Kucks; Robotti and Charles Allen;

project last spring, Janine Young, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arnold I. Young of 44 Armour Road, was given two tiny Italian zucchini seeds to plant in a milk carton by her teacher, Mrs. Perna of Community Park School. Later, not planning a vegetable garden but always willing to foster her children's school projects, her mother helped her plant the sprouting plants in their backyard.

Perhaps it was the fertile soil of what was once pasture land surrounding the Armour estate. Perhaps it was record breaking rainfall this summer. Like Jack's beanstalk, the plants grew into 20 foot vines, clambering all over their holly and chestnut trees and vielding 29-inch long slender, pale green zuc-

Also harvesting giant zucchini this summer were Laura and David Stonaker of Bainbridge Street, pictured below. Their mother, Ms. Fran Benson, a purposeful gardener, attributes the size and good health of the vegetable to the use of black plastic ground cover. Laura and David would, however, rather grow than eat zucchini.

TRAIN FARES TO RISE Up to 25 Percent. Penn Transportation Company has filed increased passenger fares with the Interstate Commerce Commission, covering travel between points in Penn-sylvania and points in New Jersey north of Trenton to

New York City. The increases, ranging up to 25 per cent, were applied to one-way and monthly commutation fares between the stations. They will not be applied to Amtrak service operated by Penn Central nor the railroad's commuter services within the northern New Jersey and Philadelphia

Penn Central, in presenting its new fare schedule to the ICC, noted that the increases are necessary to retrieve some of the increasing costs of providing the service. The last lare increase for the service was granted in February, 1971-- four and one-half years ago-- long before the present inflationary spiral skyrocketed the costs of wages, materials, fuel and equipment, the railroad

The new fares will become effective October Passengers are advised to check with ticket agents for the fare changes between specific stations.

The present one-way fare between Princeton Junction and Philadelphia is $2.50. The new fare is $2.70. Monthly commutation fare between the Junction and Philadelphia, now $54, will rise to $65. Other increases are expected to be comparable.

COMPROMISE SEEN NEAR

In West Windsor Squabble. The first plans for the proposed new West Windsor Township municipal building called for about 32,000 square feet of floor space and a cost of about $2.1 million That was soundly defeated by the voters.

The second plan was for a building of 30,000 square feet, and a cost of $1.7 million. That also was rejected.

Now Township officials are ready to unveil a third proposal for the building, which will contain only 16,000 square feet and cost about $1 million. The group leading the opposition to the two previous plans has indicated that it can probably support this proposal. A public meeting has been scheduled for this Thursday.

Mayor G. Richard Walter, a proponent of a larger building, said he will reluctantly support the $1 million proposal. "I feel the right thing to do is to build now for the future needs of the Township- especially since building costs are rising as they are. But the voters apparently feel that we should build for current needs only,

The mayor indicated he thought this attitude reflected HSCAL added: "Right now we have the police operating out of a building that's partially condemned. This building when completed would take care of our needs at that time and maybe for another couple of years. It would be equally irresponsible not to do this much. We've got to do something."

Mr. Walter said some voters feared the first two proposals because of the tendancy of some governments to increase in size just to fill the space available to them. "But we planned to lease the extra space to the Board of Education for a five- or tenyear period so we wouldn't have that temptation," he said. "That way we still would have had the space if we really needed it in the future."

Jaycees Express Thanks for Game's Support

To the Editor Town Topics: Five weeks ago the 14th annual Jaycee Classic Football Game was in serious trouble, and in need of much help. TOWN TOPICS responded in a way that was immediately evident in terms of ticket sales and local interest in a game that historically had become something of a bore. The Princeton Jaycees went from selling only 52 tickets last year to something over 400 this year, in an economy that was uncertain at best, and with ticket prices that were overwhelming.

There is no question in my mind that without this help, this year's game would not have been a success, which would have meant that for the second year in a row the local charities in the Princeton area would have received no revenues from a game that was conceived solely to support charities. would like to thank TOWN TOPICS personally for the support you gave to this year's Classic. It made a difference that I will always remember.

And many more thanks to the many people in Princeton and the surrounding communities who bought the tickets that made the difference. It makes me proud to be a part of a community whose media and residents give their all when help was needed, as it most certainly was this year. Thanks to you, local charities will benefit from the game, and there most probably will be a 15th annual Jaycee Classic.

The Deeper Issue.

To the Editor of Town Topics: On the surface, this Wednesday night's Princeton Planning Board meeting will deal with whether Princeton Housing Authority's developer (Yedlin) has made ap-propriate provision for en-vironmental factors (water run-off, aesthetics) in housing for low income and elderly.

Deeper down, however, the real issue continues to be whether 100 units of government supported housing for Princeton families of modest income should be built on Ewing-Mt. Lucas or any Princeton site.

The deeper issue has been addressed ad nauseum by Princeton public bodies and each time the decision has been to go forward, reluctantly-- not with deter-mination to get it built and occupied with all reasonable speed.

Certainly no one could argue that 10 years is a reasonable time frame for "deciding to build" 100 houses. Yet, 1966 was the year in which hun-dreds of Princeton citizens and scores of community organizations went on public record supporting housing for low income and elderly in Princeton.

In 1966, Princeton Township Committee adopted a policy statement to provide for and encourage such housing, thus giving hope to families who had needed it then for a decade. These people then began to wait and wait and are still waiting.

Within a year, PCH was formed to build housing for middle income families. Ten percent (23 units) were allocated to low income families. Seven of the 23 are or soon will be moved into Princeton Village. But the main hope for lower income and elderly is the Yedlin project-- which after 10 years is still being held up by approvals which Princeton government is unconscionably slow to provide.

If the approach were wrong, our government should have said so long before this and others could have been tried.

The families that need this housing have been irreparably hurt by the unworkable governmental process and lack of determination. But it's also the Princeton community that suffers. Many of the fine families who were working here with our kids, guarded our homes, nursed us back to health and in many other ways made Princeton a desirable community are no longer here-- or won't be when Yedlin housing finally gets built.

That's sad. Even so, the housing need continues. Planning Board members, do your duty. Approve once again and accelerate the effort so Princeton people of conscience can begin to feel human again. LEONARD F. NEWTON 90 Dempsey Avenue

Theatre Season Successful.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is an open letter to the Princeton community:

The company of Princeton Twilight Theatre would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people whose support and assistance made our theatrical endeavor such a dramatic success. Especially, we wish to thank most warmly Mrs. Patricia Chappell, Princeton University, and Mr. George Petrillo. And of course, our many patrons, who made our production season such a delightful success.

Dogs Need Freedom. To the Editor of Town Topics:

Our beloved friends, those wonderful, loyal, long suffering creatures, the dogs of our town, have hearts and souls and minds, but they are imprisoned night and day. They may be cooped up in very nice prisons, but the fact is that a dog, who was originally a wolf in the wilderness, is meant to have freedom and should cultivate his instincts, should explore life and should have some kind of rapport with his natural surroundings

It is unfair that a dog should be made to lead the life of a slave to the owner and a prisoner to society. Can the restrictions on them be gradually reduced? If they continue this chained life they become sad or sick or neurotic and, of course, any group or member of society which is in an unwholesome state is bound to have an adverse effect on it.

A few weeks ago I spent a day in a neighboring town and, as I walked through a very poor colored district I came upon the happiest dogs imaginable. They were going around in a sociable pack, all lovable, exploratory and, at the same time, courteous and well-mannered.

I fell a little hit in love with them. I wondered if we couldn't produce a few innovative codes of ethics in our town that would enhance the well being of our dogs and, incidentally, of ourselves as

In the 14 years of the laycee Football Classic in Palmer Stadium, Saturday's game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and New York Giants was the best from a policing standpoint, in the opinion of Township Lt. Michael Lisi.

"A new crowd caused some traffic problems," commented Lt. Lisi, but none that were not too hard to resolve, "and with a crowd of over 30,000, you expect that." Otherwise, Lt. Lisi said there were ''no problems, no incidents to report at all."

In last year's Classic, when the heat was reportedly more than 100 degrees inside the stadium, Township police had to contend with numerous fights and disturbances. One officer described it as mere, fisticuffs everywhere." "Fisticuffs here, fisticuffs

The rivalry between the Giants and Philadelphia Eagles seem to get the crowd more excited, Lt. Lisi observed. "This was predominantly a New York crowd and New York won the game, so everything went smoothly." Lt. Lisi added, however, that in his opinion, even a New York defeat wouldn't have changed anything.

GUIDE FOR APARTMENT SEEKERS

DIAN ON AGE TO THE STORY

It's the season for new leases, new tenants, new landlords, and TOWN TOPICS is reprinting a column on New Jersey's rent security deposit law prepared by the Mercer County Division of Consumer

Princeton Borough has a rent-control -- "rent-fevelling," it's called - ordinance. If you want information about it, you can call 921-7551. on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The rentlevelling staff member is Mrs. Lucy Graves

WHAT IS A RENT SECURITY DEPOSIT?

A Rent Security Deposit is an amount of money, or other form of security which you deposit when you want to rent a residential unit, with the person who owns or controls the ren-

A Rent Security Deposit is held in trust for you, and continues to be your property unless it is used according to the terms of the lease. If not so used, it must be returned to you, with interest.

Your deposit may not be mingled with the funds of the person receiving it, nor does it become an asset of that person.

WHY IS A RENT SECURITY DEPOSIT NECESSARY?

The Security Deposit is primarily to protect the owner of the rental property against:

1. Unpaid rent loss.

2. Damage to the premises by the tenant.

WHEN MAY A SECURITY DEPOSIT BE REQUIRED?

On all residential rental premises, except when owneroccupied with no more than two rental units.

HOW MUCH SECURITY DEPOSIT MAY BE REQUIRED?

The Deposit may not exceed 11/2 months rent.

HOW MUST A SECURITY DEPOSIT BE HANDLED?

It must be deposited in a banking institution or savings and loan association, insured by an agency of the Federal Government, in an account bearing interest at the rate currently paid by such institutions on time or savings deposits.

The person receiving the Deposit must, within 30 days thereafter, notify you of the name and address of the banking institution where the money is held and the amount of the deposit.

If the person receiving the Security Deposit fails to notify you of the name and address of the banking institution within 30 days after receipt of the Security Deposit, you may give written notice to the person holding the Deposit that the money is to be applied to rent payments due, or to become due. You then will have no further Security Deposit obligation for the term of your lease, and the person receiving the Security money cannot make a further demand for a Security Deposit from you.

WHO GETS THE INTEREST EARNED?

One percent per annum of the interest rate shall belong to the holder of the Security Deposit, in lieu of all administrative and custodial expenses, and the remaining interest earned is yours, as a tenant. If the current interest rate were 4 percent, the custodian may keep 1 percent, and you get 3 percent.

WHAT HAPPENS TO SECURITY DEPOSIT AND INTEREST WHEN LEASE EXPIRES?

1. If lease is being renewed your Security Deposit may remain on deposit, but your portion of the interest must be either paid to you or credited to your rent.

2. If lease is not being renewed Security Deposit and your portion of the interest must be returned to you by personal delivery or certified mail within 30 days, minus any charges expended in accordance with the terms of the lease. Any such expenditures shall be itemized and you are entitled to be notified thereof by certified mail.

If you have to go to court for the return of such moneys, the court finding in your favor, shall award recovery uf double the amount of said moneys, and costs.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN THE PROPERTY OWNERSHIP CHANGES DURING THE TERM OF A LEASE?

The law establishes three alternative procedures which must he followed where a landlord sells, conveys, or assigns property or is subject of a foreclosure action.

CAN RIGHTS BE WAIVED?

"Any provision of such a contract, lease, or agreement whereby a person who so deposits or advances money waives any provision of this act, is absolutely void "In other words,

If you have a consumer problem relating to a Rent Security Deposit, you can write the Mercer County Division of Consumer Affairs, 640 South Broad Street in Trenton or call 989-8000 x615.

Old Postcards Evoke a Jaunty Yesteryear

A postcard, in those days cost a penny. If you wanted to mail it to a foreign land - via ocean liner, obviously - you had to double the ante: two cents.

Your friends in the Austro-Hungarian Empire, or your colleague in the cabinet of President Taft could see from the postcard exactly what a Princeton street looked like, or a Princeton landmark, like he Nassau Inn on Nassau Street, with the balcony from which Theodore Roosevelt had addressed a cheering Princeton crowd.

You yourself, this autumn of 1975, will be able to see old Princeton in these cards when they are put on display later in the fall at the Princeton Public Library.

The cards are in the collection of Chris H. Richmond, Whiteman. Virginia businessman brother of Dorothy and Grace Whiteman of Princeton and son of Christie Whiteman, man-about-the-whole-town of Princeton in the very early years of this century.

All the cards pertaining to Princeton, in a complete set, have been presented to the Princeton Public Library for Bicentennial display and for permanent inclusion in a collection of local history memorabilia.

Just a Sideline. Mr. Whiteman has more than the show 220,000 of his father's postcards. The elder Whiteman was not a deltiologist (a collector of cards) but a practical businessman who went into the novelty mailorder business in 1906, and included the cards in his stock.

He also owned a barbershop in Princeton, and his business day, starting at 7 a.m., was about as full as several simultaneous careers could make it. Evenings, he'd go into the basement to fill his mail orders, write his own ads, set them in type and run them off on his own press.

"He hired a photographer," e younger Whiteman the younger Whiteman recalls, "took pictures all over Princeton, got a copyright and printed his own cards. Then he branched out and bought cards from other sources.

In addition, in spare time he found somewhere. managed to become Princeton's first record dealer. bringing to town the first Columbia Graphophones and Columbia and Okeh records He had a gramophone built especially for him, and christened it "The Christie. He loved opera, and the Whiteman family still has his collection of opera records.

The salary increase for next year will raise the painters' base hourly wage from $5.66 to $6.17. The painters will also receive an increase from 50 cents to $1 extra per hour for work performed above the height of 45 feet.

Until recent years the painters had received an hourly wage of about $1 below the scale for independent painters. The current wage lev level is about $3 below that scale. The University argued that lower pay was justified because the University painters are guaranteed steady work and receive

Which should be the most improved teams in the National Football League this season?... A sports news service took a survey and says that the New York Jets (who, although their record was only 7 wins and 7 losses last year. but won their last 6 in a row), and the Houston Oilers, who won 6 of their last 8 last season, got the most votes to be most improved this year.

What's the record for the most knockdowns in one professional boxing bout in history?... The record was set in a fight between Battling Nelson and Christy Williams in 1902, when there was an amazing total of 49 knockdowns in that one fight. The veteran Scott Morrison is back to handle the place-kicking. He was a fine 18 for 22 on p.a.t.s last fall and an even better 6 for 9 in field goals, as well as executing kickoffs in near flawless fashion.

There are a number of fine Ivy placekickers this season, but if Princeton had the Stein-Morrison due, it would in all likelihood top the league in this vital department. As it is, the jury will be out until early October on the Tigers' strength in kicking.

The 1975 schedule favors a team gearing toward a November climax. Rutgers, with spring practice and a game prior to its meeting with Princeton, will be a tough but not overpowering opening day opponent. The next four games (Columbia, Cornell, Colgate, Penn) will find the Tigers favored on each occasion, leaving the climactic contests with Brown, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth as the true barometers of success this year. If Princeton can handle title-minded Brown, the outcome of its games against its Big Three rivals may well determine the 1975 Ivy champion.
